

Eric BATTISTONI

After practicing for ten years as a lawyer at the Bar of Verviers (Belgium), our correspondent became judge at the Labour Court of Verviers.

For 24 years, he practiced individual labor relations's law and the one of social security, and for seven years, he practiced debt management law.

He collaborated with the ULG (Liège University) from 1996 till 2008.

He was program Chief of the " 90 Hour Seminar of organizational mediation " at the Haute Ecole Libre of Mosane (Liege) and the Institut de la Mediation dans l'Espace Francophone (IMEF).

Program Chief of the Franco-Belgian lecture "Written Judiciary Communication", he coordinated this program tailored for Belgian magistrates from 1999 to 2003, together with the École Nationale de la Magistrature –France.

From 2005 to 2009, he was professor at the School of Doctoral Law, Economics and Management of the Universities of Metz and Nancy (F) for a seminar called : « Governance, Ethics and proper management ».

Since 2006, he is a Law Professor at the University of Artois, Douai (France) and gives lectures on " Conflict and behavioral mediation and regulation".